Missouri, Kunsas and Texas was driven flown by what appeared to be a bear attack, he common touching 9½, and the preferred felling at 25, a loss of 2 points. The deviling does not appear to be justified by the ghowing of the company for the past year 1/2. The total turnover in bonds was more than 35,000,00, and prices were distinctly strong. Central Pacific 0 rist 4s sold at 55, and C vR. & Q. Joint is were in active demand. St. Paul 48 were strong and the refunding as scored an advance.

One of two things might start active trading—an attempt to cover on the part of the bears or a saiden impulse to accumulate stocks on the part of the public. Most authorities agree that the foating supply of shares is unusually small.

Weekly Cotton.

NEW YORK. March i.—Cotton was nervous and fregular during the week, but a sharp break on the announcement that the allies would endeavor to prevent shipments of all commodities to Germany and Austria, was followed by a raily owing to the continued steadilless of Southern spot markets and predictions of a sharp decrease in the coming acreage.

Increased arrivels of cotton from the South and the fixing of differences on some grades of tinged and stained cotton were accompanied by heavy snot selling. Otherwise there has been very little selling attributed to the hedging of spot supplies.

Notwithstanding the comparative steady ruling of prices general business has been very restricted.

There have been rumors that exporters were endeavoring to relet ocean freight room, and predictions have been more or less general that unless the situation in this respect soon increves, cotton heid in this country for German or Austrian account may either be offered for resale or hedged in the contract markets.

Daily clearances have continued liberal, and, the interior towns now are showing considerable decrease. Failure of the apprehended restriction on exports to cause immediate weakness in the spot markets has also served to offset some of the less favorable features.

Dun's Review.

NEW YORK March 5—Dun's review of trade to-morrow will say:

"Conditions in business are very much mived. Total transactions are still below those of recent years. Many of the cotton mills are running on fell time, and there is a satisfactory business in clothing.

"Some improvement is noted in the shoe industry, but conditions are still far from normal. Shipbuilding is very active. Large sales are reported for automobiles. Commedity prices generally are lower.

"Exports conditions have more to the United States of nearly $2000.000, while for the last three months it amounted to $411.000,000. Evidence accumulates of a transference of financial power and commercial opportunities to the United States of nearly $2000. Evidence accumulates for the warring nations, and that the international exchanges will fave rhis country to such an extent that there will be a heavy balance in our favor.
